PRESENCE IN UNCERTAIN TIMES

A 12-Week
Online Learning
Journey for Teams

WHO: For intact teams or cohorts of leaders within organizations experiencing intense market disruption and change.

WHAT: Weekly 60 minute, facilitated online sessions.

WHY: In the face of uncertainty we often double down on what has worked in the past or spin our wheels trying to anticipate what the future will look like. These sessions build your team's capacity to be adaptive and responsive to the unknown vs. being reactive and anchored in fear. The journey will take you through a process that transforms chaos and uncertainty from something to be feared to something that will become your team's super power. This inquiry also invites you to awaken your capacity to sense, notice and trust your innate capacity to intuit a way forward when all pathways ahead seem to be blocked. We blend experiential and theoretical learning with weekly opportunities for reflection and sharing. Your team will emerge from these sessions more connected, receptive and equipped to effectively navigate these uncertain times.
